

Success WOW!™
When Nothing's Worked!

That's the movie version. The real thing is better.
Okay, I have to ask. You're really a hypnotist? Like... swing a watch, 'you are getting verrry sleepy'?

Panel 2
So could you make me cluck like a chicken?
Not unless you pay me to do that.

Panel 3
Could you hypnotize me into handing over my wallet, then?
I couldn't, and neither could anyone else. All hypnosis is self-hypnosis. If part of you doesn't want it, it doesn't happen. I'm a guide, not a puppeteer.

Panel 4
Try something. If I told you to stand on your head right now, would you?
Absolutely not.
Hypnotized, you still wouldn't. You stay you the whole time.

Panel 5
Fun secret? You've been hypnotized hundreds of times.
I have not!
Ever driven home and not remembered the trip? Your conscious mind wandered off — and your subconscious did the driving. That is trance. You do it every day.

Panel 6
Okay, but would I spill my deepest secrets? Or get... stuck?
No and no. You hear everything, you remember what matters, and you can come out of trance anytime you like. The zombie trance is a Hollywood invention.

Panel 7
Wait — if I hear every word, how do I know it's working?
Hearing every word is how you know. You're not asleep. You're focused — maybe more focused than you've ever been.

Panel 8
Think of your subconscious as a supercomputer. It's running programs — habits, cravings, fears — that most of us picked up years ago.
Hypnosis doesn't install anything foreign. It helps you update to a cleaner program — and kicks out the viruses.
And hypnosis?

Panel 9
Most people aren't broken. They're just running an old pattern — one that made sense once.
...Mine runs on sugar and self-doubt.
Then that's where we start.

Panel 10
Ordinary people. Ordinary problems.
Weight that won't move. Smoking. Stress
Confidence that won't show up.
We don't fight the pattern — we understand it, and it lets go.
That's my Toxic Pattern Vanisher™ — part of my Core Healing Transformation™ program.

Panel 11
So it's all hypnosis?
That's the heart of it. But some people come to me just for coaching — I'm also an NLP Life Coach. So there are three ways in: hypnotherapy, NLP, and coaching.
Different doors, same destination — you, without the pattern.

Panel 12
Did you have to, like, go to school for this?
Certified, then board certified with the National Guild of Hypnotists — and these days I train hypnotherapists and NLP practitioners myself.
Okay, that's... actually impressive.

Curious is the perfect place to start.

The Truth About Hypnosis — In Plain Text

You just got these answers in the comic — here they are again in plain text, so they're easy to find, quote, and share.

30. Will I bark like a dog or cluck like a chicken?

Not unless you pay me to do that. You've probably seen a stage show where the hypnotist had people doing silly things — but those volunteers would never do anything against their morals or values, and neither would you. Hypnosis can't force you to do anything you don't want to do. In truth, all hypnosis is self-hypnosis: I'm a guide into the full power of your own subconscious mind, and you stay in charge the whole time.

31. Can a hypnotist control my mind — or make me hand over my money?

No. All hypnosis is self-hypnosis, and no hypnotist can make you do something you truly don't want to do, or anything against your morals and ethics. That's why someone can be hypnotized for weight loss and stay the same if part of them doesn't want the change. You have to want it and agree to it — then hypnosis becomes the instrument that helps make the change faster, deeper, and permanent.

32. Will hypnosis make me do something against my will or morals?

No. Try this: if I told you, right now, to go stand on your head, would you do it? Of course not — and if you were hypnotized, you still wouldn't. Hypnosis doesn't switch off your judgment or hand your choices to someone else. You stay you the whole time; hypnosis simply helps the part of you that wants the change get louder than the part that's been resisting it.

33. Have I been hypnotized before?

Probably — hypnosis is a natural state of relaxed focus, and you pass through it every day: while falling asleep, while waking up, driving a familiar road, getting lost in a movie or music, or being absorbed in a favorite hobby. That fuzzy, timeless state between dreaming and waking is a trance state. Trance is normal, natural, and common — a session simply guides you into that same state on purpose, with a goal.

34. Will I reveal my secrets, or get stuck in a trance?

No on both counts. You won't tell secrets you don't want to tell, and nobody gets stuck in trance — you can come out of trance anytime you like. The deep, zombie-like trance where the hypnotist controls everything is the make-believe movie and TV version. Real hypnosis is relaxed focus: you hear everything, you remember what matters, and you remain in charge from start to finish.

35. If I hear every word, is the hypnosis working?

Yes — hearing every word is exactly how you know it's working. You're not asleep and you're not unconscious; you're focused, often more focused than you've ever been. Most clients are surprised afterward by how normal it felt and how much they remember. The work happens in that focused state, with your awareness fully present — which is why the changes it makes can be so fast and so lasting.
